Tune in for the latest news on EVs and our support systems!

EVmatch coming to Sacramento

EVmatch is a peer-to-peer network for EV charging - like Airbnb - enabling EV owners to list and rent out their home charging stations. There are stations all throughout Southern California and now they are expanding to Northern California! EVmatch is currently available through their website.

City of Sacramento Releasing Draft of EV Strategy

Sacramento will release a draft EV Strategy on Friday, October 19th for public comment. Peter Mackin, Mark Williams, Lloyd Levin and Guy Hall will be reviewing it in detail and providing suggestions back to the city. Let us know if you have any comments or suggestions. The City of Sacramento will present an update at the next SacEV meeting on November 8th.

SacBee: More power for EVs in Sacramento?

It may soon become a lot easier for Sacramento drivers to get plugged in. Legislation on Gov. Brown's desk would allow city officials and private property owners to install charging stations for EVs on curbsides of public streets. Brown has until Oct. 15 to sign the bill, veto it or let it become law without his signature. SacEV article here.

What's on the EV Market?

Looking for your next car and want to make it an EV? Purchasing a first car your your newly-licensed teen? Encouraging a neighbor to go electric? Don't know where to start?

There are many new plug-in electric vehicles available for sale in the Sacramento Region, but did you know - there are deals available on used PEVs and leases of existing PEVs also?
